The young man, whose escapade with Mrs. Bowne was a twelve months' sensation in 1912, and brought much suffering to the two families, is to receive the income for life from one-sixth of the residue of his grandfather's estate, which amounts to several million dollars. Mrs. Caroline F. Mott, wife of the eloper, is to receive the income from $50,000, and at her death the principal is to go to Jordan L. Mott, 5th.

Mrs. Jennie H. R. Heath, wife of "my friend, Dr. Heath," also receives the income from a $50,000 trust fund. The children receive the pictures and other personal effects. To Augustus W.
